² Workshops/shops according to the Trade Licencing Act, §17. In other words: the places, where the goods is paid and transferred in reality (so called "brick and mortar shops" or "physical shops"). The temporary or movable shops and vending machines also fall into the class.

⁵ Foreign registered persons/companies have to state the Czech address for official communication (the address located in the Czech Republic). The other possibility for official communication could be the Czech official data box (see for example <http://www.czech.cz/en/Business/How-it-works-here/Data-Boxes>).
